Educational organization tools. No legal, tax, investment, credit repair, or lending services. No funding or credit-score outcome is promised.

Track facts, then follow up

This workbook is a recordkeeping tool, not credit repair or a credit-building service. Business credit providers use different data and scoring methods. Opening accounts or buying this workbook does not guarantee a score, approval, or funding.

A repeatable routine

List obligations. Confirm payment dates. Save statements. Ask providers whether and where they report. Review available business credit reports. Record factual errors and follow up through the relevant provider or bureau.

Do not buy accounts just for reporting

Evaluate whether an account serves a real need, whether its costs fit cash flow, and whether any personal guarantee or security interest is acceptable before applying.

Protect your information

Record account aliases or last four digits only. Avoid putting full account numbers or identity documents in this workbook.
